

Fig G Views to Edgmond

This aerial view demonstrates particularly prominent development edges (highlighted in red). The effect is less intrusive where the development is older and there is a greater quantity of garden vegetation associated with the development such as along Newport Road. The effect is hard and intrusive where the development edge is abrupt and suburban in design such as St Peter's Close.

The elevated position of Edgmond is particularly evident in the area shown in orange and is experienced when approaching the village from the south and from the north. Blue arrows indicate views to Edgmond from the flat landscape to the north.

Distant views are indicated with yellow arrows.
